ARTILLERY OF THE GERMANS VERY ACTIVE

Believe Heavy German Reinforcements Are Arriving In France

POSITIONS AT CAMBRAI ARE BEING BOMBARDED

Austro-German Effort to Break Through Italian Front Has Failed

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches)
Heavy German reinforcements have arrived in France, it is believed in allied capitals, but where the expected blow will fall is yet to be disclosed. For the moment the infantry is inactive along the western front, but the artillery, and especially that of the Germans, is very active in various sectors.

On the British front the Germans are bombarding heavily the positions southwest of Cambrai and east and northeast of Ypres, the two sectors which have seen virtually all the heavy fighting in the past three months. From St. Quentin to the Swiss border, Paris reports great enemy artillery activity between the Oise and the Aisne, in Champagne, northeast of Verdun and in Upper Alsace. The British and French cannon are replying in kind against the German positions.

The heavy German artillery fire may mean that the Germans are attempting to find a weak point, and it may be only for the purpose of drawing allied attention to one spot, while the troops from the Russian front are massed for a strong effort on a hitherto quiet sector. Strong local German attacks on the right bank of the Meuse, northeast of Verdun, have been repulsed by the French, who took prisoners.

Infantry fighting has stopped momentarily, at least, on the Italian front from Asiago to the Piave river. The Austro-German effort to break through between the Piave and the Brenta failed with losses. The enemy then re-formed his shattered forces and attempted to break through between Asiago and the Piave. He failed again. The Austro-Germans captured some terrain, but without improving their tactical positions and at a heavy cost. Apparently a local attempt to cross the lower reaches of the Piave has been checked by the Italians who recaptured observation trenches taken by Austrian soldiers.

Official entry into Jerusalem, the Holy City of the Christians, is planned for today. Allied troops entered the city of Palestine after it was surrounded and the Turks were forced to surrender. Capture of the city was delayed through the fear that fighting operations might result in the damaging of religious shrines. The deliverance of Jerusalem from the hands of the Moslems marks not only the success of General Allenby's drive into Palestine, but probably ends all Turkish-German hopes of cutting the Suez canal.

Meagre reports from Russia indicate that the Bolsheviks are meeting with difficulty in maintaining control of Moscow. The situation there is reported grave with the Bolshevik garrison refusing to obey its commander, who has ordered machine guns placed in the streets in anticipation of an uprising.

A Copenhagen dispatch says that the Bolsheviks have ordered troops from the Caucasus to put down General Kaledines. Korniloff and Dutov, while from London it is reported large forces are being sent from the Baltic-Black sea zone into the Ukraine and the Cossacks provinces. Whether clashes have occurred between the Bolsheviks and the counter-revolutionists is not apparent. The Bolshevik government controls virtually all the direct means of communication with the interior of Russia.

RUSHING TROOPS TO WESTERN FRONT

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Monday, 10.—The correspondent at Amsterdam of the Daily Express reports that the Germans are rushing troops to the western front with the idea of smashing the entente allies before America is able to act.

The correspondent adds: "One of the results of this is that two German munition trains collided on Thursday. Both were blown up and several hundred soldiers were killed or wounded."

(Associated Press Telegram)

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 11.—Thirteen of the negroes of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, U. S. GREAT SUFFERING REPORTED TODAY IN GREATER NEW YORK

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, Dec. 11.—Freezing temperatures accompanied by high winds continued here today with increasing numbers of reports of suffering due to the shortage of the coal supply. Yesterday, the coldest December 10th in thirty-four years, made it possible to bring 40,000 tons of coal—a two day supply for greater New York—across the bay from New Jersey and dealers today continued to measure out their dwindling supply on the equal distribution plan.

Hospital accommodations for children were reported to be crowded, the result, according to charity workers, of unheated living rooms, and to under nourishment due to the inability of parents to buy milk and other necessary foods. One public school in Brooklyn was closed yesterday because of lack of coal and the supply in scores of others is about exhausted.

HUNDREDS OF MEN ARE ENLISTING FOR THE ARMY SERVICE

(Associated Press Telegram)

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Hundreds of men stood in line today when the main army recruiting office on South State street opened eager to enlist, the time limit for draft men to voluntarily enter a preferred branch of the service having been extended until tomorrow night. Nearly 1800 applicants were accepted yesterday, said to be a record number for one day at a recruiting station.

B. & O. TELEGRAPHERS HAVE SETTLED DIFFICULTIES

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Dec. 11.—Difficulties which threatened a strike of 2300 telegraphers employed by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, and a tieup of traffic on one of the country's most important railroads, were settled today by the federal board of mediation and conciliation under the direction of Commissioner G. W. W. Hanger.

WOULD CARE FOR ORPHANS.

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, Dec. 11.—The Canadian club of this city is making plans to induce New York men and women to adopt children who lost their parents in the Halifax disaster. It was announced today by President Thomas D. Neelds. A number of prominent people here have approved of the plan. Mr. Neelds said. The club also plans to co-operate in any movement for the permanent care of orphans who cannot be brought here.

NATION-WIDE PROHIBITION.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Dec. 11.—By unanimous consent today the house agreed to consider on Monday the constitutional amendment for nationwide prohibition which already has been passed by the senate. The judiciary committee today favorably reported the amendment.

The announcement from headquarters said in part:

"Those acquitted: Privates Wm. Beacot, Grover Buins, Company I; Grant H. Mems, Co. K; Bursh L. Smith, Co. L; and Terry Smith, Co. M—all of the 24th U. S. Infantry. "The execution was carried out under charge of a guard furnished by the troop at Sam Houston.

"The remains were interred near the place of execution." "Good bye, boys of Company C," were the last words uttered by the condemned men of the Twenty-fourth, as the traps were sprung and they dropped to their death on the scaffold.

Men of Company C, Nineteenth Infantry, have been guarding the negro prisoners since they were brought to San Antonio to stand trial before a court martial for complicity in the riot at Houston on August 23 last. The execution took place about two miles east of Camp Travis on a great scaffold which had been erected during the night.

A column of 125 cavalrymen and 100 infantry soldiers assembled and the cavalry guard house where the negroes were confined. At 5:30 o'clock this morning trucks conveyed the prisoners to the scene of the execution.

"With Millard F. Waltz, post commander in command, the column arrived at 6:30 a. m. The guard assembled in hollow square formation around the scaffold and the prisoners were given the order to march to execution.

Without a tremor they stepped out with soldierly tread and singing a hymn walked to their places. Prayers were said by a negro minister and by two army chaplains and then the men were ordered to stand on the traps. Resuming their song they stood erect and displayed fortitude while the ropes were adjusted.

At 7:17 a major gave the order to spring the traps. The triggers had been arranged, one for each drop, and six men were assigned to each one. At the word of command they pulled on the triggers and the 13 dropped to their deaths.

No civilian spectators were permitted to witness the execution.

GREAT THRONGS ARE IN ATTENDANCE AT THE LEHMAN TRIAL

(Associated Press Telegram)

Waukegan, Dec. 11.—Mrs. Alcy Fenton, the woman in the Lehman murder case, went on the witness stand today to testify regarding her relations with Frederick Lehman, accused of having murdered his wife, Grace.

Mrs. Fenton admitted early in her testimony that Lehman had kissed and fondled her. She also testified that he told her stories, "that were not Sunday school stories," and that he planned a "big time" some day when Mrs. Lehman was away visiting. Mrs. Fenton said that subsequently Mrs. Lehman went on a visit and that she and Lehman and a party of others went on an automobile joy party. On another occasion, she said, she and Lehman and Fenton went on an automobile joy party. She testified that Lehman got Fenton "dead drunk." It was on that occasion, she said, that Lehman kissed and fondled her.

COLDEST DECEMBER WEATHER RECORDED IN PAST 40 YEARS

(Associated Press Telegram)

Cleveland, Dec. 11.—A coal and gas shortage with continued cold weather today brought Cleveland face-to-face with one of the most serious fuel situations in the city's history. Twelve thousand men employed in eight local plants of the American Steel and Wire company were idle today because of fuel shortage. Company officials said most of the plants had been closed since Saturday. Seven public schools were closed today because of lack of coal.

STATE GRANGE MEETING TODAY

(Associated Press Telegram)

Darton, Dec. 11.—The Ohio State Grange at its annual meeting here as its first official act today sent a message to President Wilson, representing 75,000 Ohio farmers, pledging their unswerving loyalty to their country and pledging the president their unanimous support in the present world conflict. L. J. Taylor of Barnesville, Ohio, master of the Ohio Grange sent the telegram.

A telegram was also sent to fuel Administrator Garfield at Washington stating "that inasmuch as the people of Ohio are freezing we appeal to you to deny the use of coal and fuel to breweries of this state during the present winter."

HEROIC ALPINE SOLDIERS HELD ASIAGO PLATEAU

Fought Until Cut to Pieces and Compelled to Fall Back

FORCES REFORMED GO BACK INTO THE FIGHT

Confident of Holding New Lines Formed Leading to Brenta Valley

(Associated Press Telegram)

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Monday, Dec. 10.—A visit today to the headquarters of a major general commanding a division of heroic Alpine and Bersaglieri disclosed the story of how this division held the heights back of the Asiago plateau until it was cut to pieces and the remnant was compelled to fall back to its present new line. The general is now engaged in reforming his shattered forces which were seen in long lines along the roads preparing to go back into the fight.

A major general's staff, who toward the close of the fight collected the remainder of the man of the division and led them in the final charges until the order for retirement came, gave a first hand description of the struggle. He said there were three Bersaglieri regiments, some Alpine battalions and one infantry regiment in the division. In addition to the usual quota of batteries of field and machine guns, these were reinforced by Asiago when the enemy's drive reached its maximum intensity last Wednesday. For twenty four hours one Bersaglieri regiment held Monte Tondarear until its platoons had been reduced from thirty men to six. It was then that the battalions of Alpine were sent to their relief.

The Alpine fought their way up the hill gaining the summit against heavy odds, only to find their comrades cut to pieces. Most of them were lying dead from stab wounds. Now the Alpine battalions found themselves in the center of a concentration of enemy forces which gradually encircled them. Some of the battalions maneuvered and were carried back and forth in the furor of the fighting along the slopes. Others remained on the summit with the enemy surrounding them.

At nine o'clock Wednesday morning the colonel of these battalions sent his last report to the general. It said laconically: "The enemy is on all sides and I am about to charge." That was the last which was ever heard of any of his men.

The enveloping enemy masses grew denser and the gallant Alpine band which had gone to rescue the Bersaglieri was wiped out of existence. Fighting continued along other points of the line until the forces were decimated and it became clear that the enemy greatly outnumbered the Italians. The general himself who was directing operations from a point just back of the line, narrowly escaped a shrapnel shell which burst through his automobile. It was then that the major who recounted these events gathered the remnant of the division and fought out the remainder of the day until the new Italian lines of defense were formed across the Franzella and -Gadeua passes leading to the Brenta valley and the plain. It is here the lines are now resting, with good prospects of holding. The correspondent visited a number of points on the present line and talked with officers and men. All were confident of being able to hold when the new attack which they expect in a few days, is made.

SEEK TO RESTORE NORMAL CONDITIONS IN STRICKEN CITY

(Associated Press Telegram)

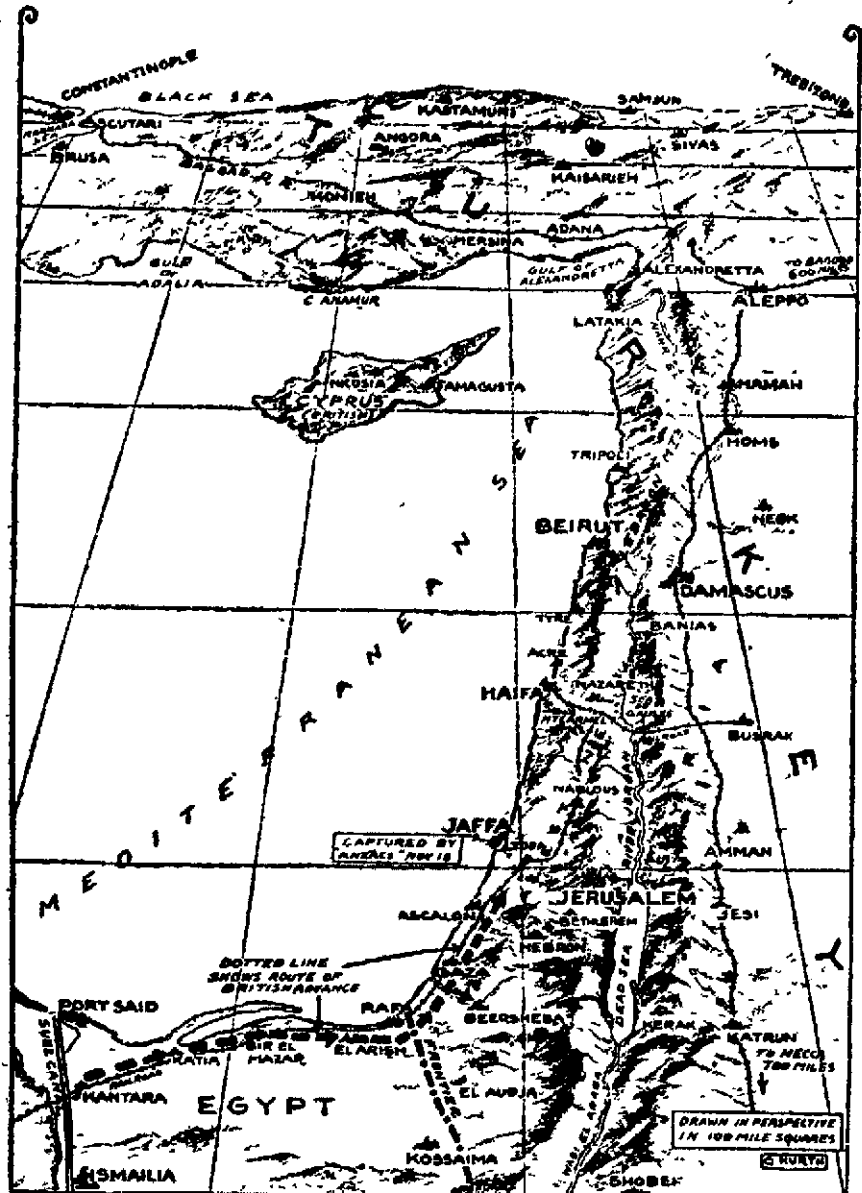

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 11.—The snowstorm which hampered the relief workers yesterday was of short duration and last night was clear and cold. As the snow which fell was near enough to rain to be well saturated a hard crust had formed to day, further interfering with the traffic problems and with the work of clearing away the ruins of wrecked buildings.

All activities, however, are now on a systematic basis and Halifax men joined today with men from other parts of Canada and from cities in the United States in seeking to restore normal conditions. The refusal to admit curiosity seekers already has resulted in a noticeable lessening of the congestion which was threatening serious impediment. Hundreds of men were busy today about the less badly damaged buildings. The chief task was to replace broken windows and doors, and to repair roofs. The supplies of window glass sent from other cities proved particularly useful and a party of skilled glaziers from Boston assisted in replacing the thousands of shattered panes.

For all concerned last night was the most restful since the explosion. The sinking of the munitions steamer Ticonderoga yesterday, with the assurance that there were no more explosive-laden vessels in the harbor, drove away fears of further possible disaster and permitted residents and relief workers to sleep in peace.

CAUGHT IN EXPLOSION.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Beverly, Mass., Dec. 11.—One American, a resident of this city, lost his life in the Halifax disaster. Word was received here today that the body of John W. Morash, an employee of the Beverly plant of the United Shoe Machinery company, had been found.

WHERE BRITISH PUSH ON IN PALESTINE

General Allenby expects the first stage of the British campaign against the German-led Turks in Palestine to culminate in the capture of Jerusalem. Gaza, Beersheba, Ascalon and Jaffa have fallen in rapid succession and Jerusalem is practically in a state of siege. The next move will probably be an advance towards Aleppo, where the Jerusalem railway joins the main line of the famous Berlin-Bagdad railroad.

RAINBOW SOLDIERS ARE PUBLISHING A PAPER SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, Dec. 11.—Copies of the first issue of the Ohio Rainbow Reveille, the official publication of the 166th United States Infantry formerly the old Ohio Fourth now of the Rainbow division in France, has been received in Columbus by friends and relatives of the men. Special prominence is given to one article by Colonel Benson W. Hough, in which he commends the men of his regiment for the splendid spirit they have shown since being called into the service. He also congratulates the Rainbow Reveille on its first issue.

The paper, a two-page publication, is dated Nov. 17, 1917, and bears the title "Somewhere in France," Chapter J. J. Halliday is publisher. Part of the issue is devoted to sports in which the Ohio State-Wisconsin game is recorded. First mail from the United States for the division arrived Nov. 13, the Reveille says.

DEFENDANT'S WIFE TESTIFIES TODAY IN HIS DEFENSE

(Associated Press Telegram)

Concord, N. C., Dec. 11.—Mrs. Julie P. Means testified today in defense of her husband, Gaston B. Means, on trial here for the murder of Mrs. Maud A. King. She said that since she was five years old she had known Mrs. King and during the last several years she had been with her almost constantly. She told of having signed a note jointly with her husband for a loan of $25,000, made to the defendant by Mrs. King.

Mrs. King testified that she never observed any evidence that her husband sought to estrange Mrs. King's liberty or dominate her. She corroborated the defendant's testimony at various points, including his explanation of "the mysterious" references in letters to her by her husband while she was at Asheville, with Mrs. King and he in New York last July.

Introduction of evidence in the trial of Gaston Means appeared to be nearing its end today, although the defense remained silent as to how many more witnesses it would offer before resting its case. The state also was expected to offer several witnesses in rebuttal.

Means' story of his financial transactions for Mrs. Maud A. King, for whose alleged murder he is on trial, was finished yesterday after he had reiterated his story of her death near here last August, which he attributed to the accidental discharge of a pistol in her hands. He had been on the stand the better part of four days. Then the defense put on a number of witnesses to testify to minor points in its case. Among them were Means' two sisters, who declared that on the night of Mrs. King's death they found him with his head bowed in his hands and tears streaming down his face.

TAXPAYERS MUST BE ENTHUSED WITH PATRIOTIC SPIRIT

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Dec. 11.—Grudging taxpayers should be few and very unpopular during the next six months, according to the plans formulated by Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper for collection of about $3,000,000,000 so-called Liberty taxes from over 7,000,000 persons before next July 1. "Smile when you pay your income tax; it means a tear for the Kaiser." This is one of the representative slogans which probably will be adopted in a nation-wide campaign to promote a patriotic spirit among taxpayers, most of whom will be subjected to a direct federal tax for the first time.

Suggestions from other slogans are solicited. Here are two already received: "Liberty tax or war indemnity? Which would you rather pay? Think of this when making out your income tax return." "Every dollar of your income tax goes to the boys in the trenches. Help them to early victory."

Letters were sent to every advertising club today by Commissioner Roper asking their co-operation.

SUFFERING IS CAUSED BY THE COAL SHORTAGE

Gov. J. M. Cox Appeals to Federal Fuel Administrator For Relief

UNTOLD SUFFERING AND SEVERAL KNOWN DEATHS

Thousands of Homes Without a Particle Coal During Freezing Weather

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, Dec. 11.—With below zero weather prevailing, the coal shortage was so acute in Ohio today that Governor James M. Cox telegraphed Dr. Harry Garfield, federal fuel administrator at Washington, that unless Ohio people get immediate relief they will "lose confidence in the government."

Yesterday Governor Cox urged the federal fuel administration at Washington to give the Ohio fuel administration authority to take and distribute all the coal now on railroad tracks in Ohio that is not moving. Today he sent the following message to Dr. Garfield:

"I am quite sure that if you knew the situation here as we do you would grant the order suggested yesterday at once. Why cannot you do the same thing here you did in Michigan and authorize someone to use his discretion in taking over coal to meet an urgent situation wherever it exists?"

"If you don't do something like this, people will lose confidence in the government because they believe your order is tainted with injustice if it is carried out arbitrarily without any flexibility."

Thousands of Ohio homes have been without a particle of coal this winter and during the last few days of below zero weather reports from over the state indicate untold suffering and several deaths. The homes of the wealthy as well as the poor have been affected.

State officials have reports showing that thousands of tons of coal are standing on railroad sidings in Ohio, the railroads being unable to move it because of congested transportation facilities due to the war and to the cold weather.

Many schools over the state have been forced to close down, including Ohio State University and many churches are holding union services in order to conserve the little coal they have on hand. Many office buildings are without heat and in some places business is practically suspended.

CASES DISPOSED OF IN POLICE COURT BY MAYOR BIGBEE

Joe Harris, colored, from Richmond, Va., who "tuck" an amount of wearing apparel from Sam Sherman, colored, while they were rooming at the home of Mrs. Johnson in East Railroad street, was bound over in the sum of $200 this morning in Mayor Bigbee's court.

Joe, it is charged, had appropriated a suit of clothes, ties, stick pin, watch, shoes, the holder and a silk handkerchief, amounting to $48.00 from Sam. But Joe has a faulty memory and a trip was made over to East Newark to recover the watch, from the party Joe thought he had sold it to, but after reaching there Joe remembered he had disposed of it to another man. Later the watch was recovered.

John Ward, giving his residence as Pittsburgh was fined $5 and costs for intoxication.

Henry McFarland drew a fine of $5 and costs on a charge of fighting filed by Fred Brown, a taxi cab driver. The trouble grew out of Brown driving McFarland and his daughter to their home in German street, and the latter objected to the fare charged. It was charged he struck Brown who retaliated, and the episode ended in police court.

MUST SHOW PROPER CONSIDERATION OR PAY THE PENALTY

Ed Probasco, taxicab driver, was ordered to appear before Mayor R. C. Bigbee Monday afternoon and was fined $5 and costs for exceeding the speed limit in the city, but in reality the fine should have been imposed for his lack of consideration.

Of course pedestrians under ordinary circumstances are supposed to keep to the sidewalks, but the heavy snows of the past few days have made the street car tracks the only available place for walking. Probasco also found the West Church street tracks a mighty easy place to run his machine, and he forced children out into snow drifts piled high on the side of the tracks, so he could continue at a break neck speed down the street. But the eagle eye of Chief James Sheridan spotted him and he paid for his haste yesterday.

Auto drivers, on many occasions show a lack of consideration but never so apparent as on bad mornings when they will force hundreds of walkers out of the car tracks into the drifts piled at the side so they may proceed with no inconvenience to themselves.

RESPOND TO TWO ALARMS OF FIRE BEFORE MIDNIGHT

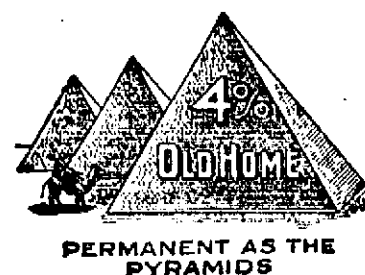

Two alarms called the central department out before midnight Tuesday night. The first call came at 9:15 when smoke was seen coming out of the home of Edward Toss in Enea Vista street and it was thought there was a fire. An investigation failed to find one, however.

At 11:20 they were called to the residence of Clarence Bowman in German street. A gas light had set fire to the ceiling burning a hole in the same. A peculiar incident was the fact that a lace curtain on the far side of the room was destroyed although there was no fire between it and the gas light. The damage was estimated at $10, with no insurance.

"Typographical errors," said William Dean Howells, "are always amusing. When I was a boy in my father's printing office in Martin's Ferry, I once made a good typographical error. My father had written 'The showers last week, though copious, were not sufficient for the millmen.' I set it up 'milkmen.'"

FORTY YEARS' SUCCESS.
For a business to be successful for forty years means a great deal. Among other things, it means remarkable excellence in the product it sells. No inferior article can be sold on a large scale for so many years; and it must not only be good at the outset, but so good that the progress of forty years shall not develop any better article to supersede it.

So women can, with confidence, depend upon that old, tried and tested remedy for woman's ailments, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, still as popular as ever, though it was placed on the market before the centennial year, 1876. (Adv.)

GRANVILLE

(Special to The Advocate.)

Granville, Dec. 11.—The blizzard and cold snap of the past few days have tested the gas pressure to the limit, and there seems to be no heat going to waste in the community. Sunday dinners, in most cases, sized over slow fires, possibly because every one needed the utmost pressure of the gas to keep warm.

The annual bazaar and supper given by The King's Daughters in their rooms Saturday afternoon and evening was largely attended, despite the extreme cold and the deep snow. Their Christmas benefactions will be further increased by the movies benefit in the Opera House, Thursday evening.

Dr. L. E. Davis spent several days last week in Cleveland attending the meetings of the Ohio Dental convention.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Kier expect a Christmas visit from their son Harold, who enlisted in Battery D of Dayton and is in Camp Sheridan. The address of Hobart Sutton, '17, Sigma Chi, is Headquarters Co. 134th Regiment, Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala.

Mrs. Grove, who has been visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. E.

Davis for the past week, has returned to her home in Cincinnati. She was accompanied by Mrs. Harry Howe, who will visit her son Philip in camp at Fort Thomas.

Not in years has Granville faced so serious a shortage in fuel. Private houses in all sections of the town have suffered not only from lack of heat, but in many cases burst pipes and broken radiators speak eloquently of the acuteness of the situation. Even had people been prepared for the sudden drop in temperature, they were helpless in face of the low gas pressure. The public schools shut down; the "Travelers' club" decided not to assemble; the Red Cross headquarters could not be opened. The Fanny Doane Home for Missionary Children is in extremity and Miss Clark says she does not know what she should do if a child should be taken sick. Denison University suffers no scarcity of heat. The dormitories and recitation rooms are in comfortable condition and the Baptist church which is supplied with hot water from the heating plant, will be warmed for the concert tonight—the famous Gipsy Quartet, the first entertainment on the music course. The Opera House too is comfortably heated, because of the warm rooms below.

President C. W. Chamberlain was in Chillicothe a few nights ago where he addressed 250 foreign-born men at Camp Sherman, with gratifying success.

Miss White, head of the Home Economics department of O. S. U., will be the guest of Denison University on Thursday. On this occasion she will address the entire college at noon on the subject of Conservation; the girls of Shepherdson College at 3:30, and the ladies of the village in the evening.

The Woman's Music club will present its Christmas program on Wednesday afternoon at "Monomoy Place," beginning promptly at 3:00 o'clock. Mrs. C. B. White, leader. Lowell Johnson of Cleveland is spending a few days at the home of his parents, Prof. and Mrs. W. H. Johnson.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Editor of The Advocate:—Just a few lines of thanks to the people of Licking County for the beautiful "Service Medal" and to The Advocate for the interest it is taking in us soldiers.

Your excellent example would, no doubt, be followed by the people in other sections of the country if they could but realize how some such token from the "Folks Back Home" is appreciated and treasured by the men who are fighting or preparing to fight, for civilization.

Hoping none of the Licking County men are so unfortunate as not to be reached by you, I beg to remain, Yours truly, Jos. P. O'Shaughnessy, Private Hdq. Co., 124th F. A. Camp Logan, Houston, Texas.

Readers' Viewpoint

Editor Advocate:—For considerable time past I have considered Theodore Roosevelt a "closed incident"—except as a useful agitator for the prosecution of the war—but when I read in a Columbus paper of a recent date the declaration of Dr. W. O. Thompson, that he (Roosevelt) was a "twin brother of the German Kaiser" I could not help appreciating the pith and pertinency thereof.—M. R. Scott.

Lacking One Dimension.
Alfred A. Knopf, New York's Russian expert, said the other day:
"The Russian revolutionists are mystics. They're idealists. They now invite the German people to revolt, but revolution demands a democratic spirit, and the German people, so far as a democratic spirit goes, are as deficient as the very fat old lady who got stuck in the door of a car and could get neither out nor in."
"Sideways, sideways. Try sideways," the conductor shouted reprofully.
"Oh, that the fellow," panted the old lady, "I ain't got no sideways!"

EXPERT DRIVERS IN TRAINING FOR SERVICE ABROAD

(Associated Press Telegram)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Dec. 11.—Two hundred and fifty expert truck drivers from ranks of the select here will be sent to Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga., soon for special training in preparation for service abroad. All of the men have experience in this line of work and probably will be used in the ordnance department after their schooling is completed.

Thirty-five hundred men composed of contingents from all the National army training camps have been assigned for duty at the southern camps. Draftees from various districts over the state are constantly coming into camp. It was announced today that 9,007 men still are to be sent here by local draft boards. Some of these men will find places in the various line regiments but it was stated today, most of them will be assigned to the depot battalions which at present comprises 5771 draftees.

This, in the minds of officers, seems to establish the fact that the depot brigade disbandment, which was talked of much recently, is to be a permanent unit. Its purpose is to act as a feeder for the line regiments and at present it had dwindled to a very small number, some companies having only one-fourth of their full strength. Further reductions are being made with the discharge of a number of aliens who, it has developed, have been erroneously inducted into the service.

Captain Pinger of the inspection department, Washington, is conducting an inspection of all ordnance here. He has done similar work in other cantonments checking of materials and supplies.

Eleven slackers from various parts of the state were brought into camp today. A reward of $50 is paid for their capture and the quartermaster department has paid out a considerable sum for this purpose since the opening of the training station.

Orders have been issued that all dentists serving as enlisted men may make application for commissions as first lieutenants in the dental reserve corps. This must be done before December 15.

Radio messages probably will be put out from Camp Sherman to points all over the country on the arrival soon of a complete radio set which has been presented to the 368th Signal Battalion by the Rotary club of Peoria, Ill. Most of the men of this unit were enlisted there and sent here for training.

Plans to handle the avalanche of Christmas packages which will pass through the hands of soldier postmasters are being worked out. New bins are being made and instructions issued for the transfer of all mail from the company postoffices, to the consignee immediately. Consignors are urged to print clearly on all packages and parcels the full name, rank, regiment and company of the select to whom they are sending matter if order that receipt without long delay will be assured.

CONTEMPLATES GERMAN IMPERIALISTIC PEACE

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Dec. 11.—Further details of the statement made to Russian journalists by Sir George Buchanan, the British ambassador at Petrograd, as forwarded by a Reuter dispatch show the ambassador declared the Russian commissaries were mistaken in thinking a durable peace could be obtained by asking the Germans for an armistice to be followed by an agreement. The allies, he said, wished first to arrive at a general agreement in harmony with their declared war aims and then arrange an armistice.

The peace contemplated by the emperor was a German imperialistic peace, the ambassador said. Although the allies could not send representatives to take part in the armistice negotiations they were read, said Sir George, as soon as a stable government, recognized by the Russian people, had been constituted, to examine with the government war aims and possible conditions of a just and durable peace. Meantime the allies were giving Russia the most effective assistance by holding the bulk of the German armies on their respective fronts. The ambassador reiterated Great Britain's desire to stand by Russia in this critical hour and asked whether the same could be said of Russian feelings toward Great Britain.

Denying reports of contemplated punitive action should Russia make a separate peace Sir George asserted the allies were entitled to complain that the council of people's commissaries had been negotiating with the enemy without previously consulting the allies which was a breach of the London agreement of 1914.

Washington, Dec. 11.—One of the announced features of the 49th annual convention of the National Woman's Suffrage association which opens here tomorrow in a series of conferences between state delegates and their senior senator to hold a hearing in his office so they can meet their entire congressional delegation to present arguments for the passage of the suffrage amendment, pending in congress.

400 Gas Car Owners Proved Wrong

A list of 400 owners of gasoline cars was compiled.

Each owner was requested to state offhand how many miles he traveled a day.

The answers ranged from 60 miles to 150.

That was about what we thought they would say.

Most motorists do think they travel a good many miles a day.

Then we had them check the speedometer readings over a period of the past four months.

And the 400 owners proved themselves wrong.

They did not travel anything like what they thought they did.

As a matter of actual fact 300 of the 400 traveled less than 44 miles a day.

80 traveled about 60 miles a day; 18 about 65. And 2 traveled about 90 miles a day.

Now all of the 400 thought that the Detroit Electric should have a 200 mile range on a single charge of the battery in order to meet their needs.

But the facts prove that if the Detroit Electric, only had 90 miles on a charge it would be sufficient.

Yet it does have an actual mileage of from 80 to 90.

That is more mileage on a single charge than any one of the 400 gas car owners would need or use.

Have you had a wrong impression as to your mileage needs?

Let us show you the modern Detroit Electric.

PRESIDENT'S LEADERSHIP.

It is interesting to see what unanimous respect and warm appropriation is given all through the allied countries to President Wilson's leadership. As the war goes on and the president's grasp of a terribly difficult situation becomes more complete, the power of his leadership is more apparent. His recent message to congress is greeted with practically unanimous approval in Europe. No other statesman in the allied countries is accorded to such an extent as the spokesman for the forces of democratic government.

Hitherto Europe has been rather condescending toward America. We have not been looked at as entitled to a position of leadership in any way. But President Wilson's discriminating perception of the issues involved, gives him a recognition that our country should be proud of.

In Europe far from the political divisions of our land, his power is fully recognized. It is seen that he is thinking out great world problems in a big and constructive way, and seeing all around them, where most men see only one side of them.

His recent message impresses the world for its broad-minded and astute appeal to democratic sentiment in the Teutonic countries. Mr. Wilson is wise as a serpent in his encouragement of the growing democratic feeling in those lands. He appeals over the heads of the war lords to the people, and the yells of rage from the reptile press of Germany show that he hits the mark.

With the president's clear vision thus recognized in all the lands fighting for democracy, we can accept his leadership and renew our loyalty to it with constantly increasing confidence. It is now up to congress to fall into line without partisanship and to provide what further war legislation is necessary. No one asks congress to swallow the president's recommendations blindfolded. But the advice of one so accepted as a world-leader must command tremendous respect.

The people who won't buy any war-savings stamps because they only pay 4 per cent. are often the same ones who expect to borrow money of their friends without paying any interest.

It's too bad that some of these congressmen that held up appropriations for the soldiers so long, can't be sleeping in a winter camp with summer clothing on about now.

Some of these fake yarns about American losses that the spies are putting out might possibly deceive a kindergarten kid, if he was only old enough to read them.

Portraits of Kaiser Bill still decorate a few of the colleges, but so far as heard from, none of the churches is still ornamented with pictures of the devil.

FOOD SHORTAGE.

The United States is regarded primarily an agricultural country and one of the world's great treasure-houses of food, yet our food exports are slightly exceeded by our food imports. That is, with all our rich and broad acres, we are scarcely able to feed ourselves.

Many people have been feeling that food scarcity is caused by the war, and that these conditions can be depended upon to cease when peace is signed. Yet all over Europe there has been a lack of fertilization of the soil for the past three seasons. Vital elements of plant-food have either been cut off, or have been so high priced that the ordinary farmer could not get them.

Germany has had a practical monopoly of potash, but even in Germany soil fertility has declined. Soil-production cannot be kept up by the forced labors of prisoners or by the work of women, old men, and children. Europe will feel this reduced production for five years after the war, say good authorities. Our own soil also shows lack of proper fertilization. This is partly due to negligence, partly to the cutting off of our supplies of potash.

The great numbers of men killed and crippled will give agricultural labor scarce for years. Europe will keep calling on us for food and may demand even more than now.

Evidently, food shortage is no temporary condition, and far-reaching measures of relief need to be taken. First, of course, is the improvement of our own production, on which our government experts are working. Then there is the possible development of unused resources in other countries.

BOOKS FOR SOLDIERS.

Visitors to the army camps who have looked over the little libraries that are accumulating there from popular gift, find a very large proportion of light novels. A certain proportion of light fiction will, of course, do much good. A cheerful story will brighten up lonely and home-sick hours.

But the report from the camps is that many soldiers are calling for really good reading. They are ambitious to use the chance to become more intelligent and make up gaps in their education.

In this period of his life, the soldier may well find some time for permanent self-improvement. Of course he will spend many hours of rest in social life with his comrades. Also the camp-life will provide many interesting entertainments and lectures. But there will be many idle hours. The more ambitious men will not fritter these away. They represent a real chance for self-improvement. Probably never again will there be so much chance to do really good reading.

It would be too much to expect that after the hard labor of their training, many of the boys would have energy for laborious study. But they will at least find it pays to read good books. The masterpieces of literature and informative books of history, travel and social science can do a great deal for the growing mind of a young man. Once a fellow gets interested in them, light novels lose their charm.

UNIFYING RAILROADS.

(Philadelphia Record.)
The special report of the Interstate Commerce Commission recognizes the imperative necessity of increasing the efficiency of the transportation system of the country by eliminating competition, which involves waste and duplication, and the operation of the railroads by a centralized management, which may be the President of the United States, or it may be an agency created by the railway companies themselves. The Commission presents the alternatives to Congress, without expressing a preference for either. If the railway managements, a considerable amount of legislation designed to enforce competition must be suspended or repealed.

tion and increasing the regulative functions of the Commission. The result is anomalous, not only in combining competition with regulation, but in restricting the charges the companies may make for their services, while there is no restriction upon the prices they have to pay for materials, and Congress and the Commission both assist the employees in getting higher wages. It has been certain for several years that the railway companies could not go on paying increased prices, wages and taxes unless they had some authority to regulate the charges for transportation.

The Commission has learned something regarding the rights of the owners of the roads, and in the event of the companies being allowed to manage their own business by a combination, the Commission recognizes that they should have "just and reasonable" rates sufficient to yield fair returns upon their value, not necessarily the most of the property; after all, necessary expenditures had been made and depreciation allowed for. In the other case, if the roads should be operated by the government, the Commission favors a suitable guarantee by the Government to each carrier of an adequate annual return for the use of the property in addition to its maintenance, "with provision for fair terms on which improvements and betterments made by the President during the period of his operation could be paid for by the carrier upon return to it of the property after expiration of that period."

But in the other case, of combined railway management, the Commission believes the companies "should be provided with financial assistance in the form of loans or advances for capital purposes in such amounts, on such considerations and under such provisions of expenditure as may be determined by appropriate authority." Regulation is inconsistent with competition. The country is firmly committed to the policy of regulation. With the power of the Commission there is no need of competition to protect the public. The logical and the least revolutionary way of concentrating management would be to repeal laws against pooling and similar practices, and allow the railway companies to combine into one administrative whole.

NEW YORKER IN CONGRESS.

(New York Times.)
Representative John J. Fitzgerald, who announces that he will resign at the end of this month, is one of the most useful and important men in congress. He is the only New-Yorker who has entered congress in the nineteen years that he has been there who has risen to a position of great influence. Not only is he the only New Yorker who ranks among the leaders of the house, but he is the only New Yorker who has risen at all above the undistinguishable rank and file.

Being a New Yorker, Fitzgerald was eminent in congress and not eminent at home. The road he took was no avenue to promotion, because he was a New Yorker. In Washington he was one of the few men who directed the course of the nation. When he came home he was simply a Democratic officeholder, lost in the general run of other Democratic officeholders, aldermen and sheriffs and the like. In New York a nomination to congress is simply one of the jobs to be parceled out; in Iowa it is the most important office with which the voters are concerned.

Iowa goes at the task of filling it seriously, New York lists it along with the county clerkship, and the municipal court justiceship as one of the places in which somebody in this organization is to be taken care of. And when the man chosen has been taken care of it makes no difference how he fills his office. He may make himself a leader in congress, as Fitzgerald did, or he may lose himself in the general run, as the rest do; it is all one so far as his future is concerned. It is not merely that the coarse-thunder and short-browed machine looks on a seat in congress only as a job, it is also that the voter himself has no interest in it, at least no interest comparable to the interest he feels in the mayoralty and the governorship. So it happens that the Empire State, with the largest representation in the federal congress, has the least influence; that little Rhode Island and Delaware, or big and half-populated Arizona and Idaho, may at any time outweigh her in influence in the councils of the nation, and that as a general rule they do.

A FOOLISH PROPOSITION.

(Columbus Sunday Dispatch.)
The proposition to lower the age limit of the boys for military service seems of foolish one. To conscript boys of the age of 19, as is proposed by some people, is not in the interest of the manhood of this country, and it is not necessary to rob the cradles in order to win the war. There are any number of boys 19 years of age in the army. There are any number of them who are well enough matured at that age to make splendid soldiers. But to fix an arbitrary rule, and to press into the service every boy of 19 would probably not be for the best, since there are so many boys of that age who are really not old enough, nor well enough matured, to make good soldiers.

Twenty years of age would not be so bad. That would give the government additional thousands, for the limit is now 21. Or, to increase the limit to 25, that would be still better. It is now 21, and to add on two or three or four years at that end would give the government several hundred thousand, or perhaps a million more men for the service, if needed. But we take no stock in enlisting arbitrarily boys of 19, even though the military people point out that as a rule boys of 19 make better soldiers than men of 25. We must pay some attention to the mothers of this country—for the mothers are going to help win the war.

The Puritans hated bearbaiting, not because it gave pain to the bear, but because it gave pleasure to the spectators.—Macaulay.

Speaking of War.
Aunt Caline says: Since this here ole war has come, almost ever nite they hev meetin' an' speech makin' up at the school house, an' some of the men they make the most ole long speeches, fer a grate memny men seem to do all o' their fightin' with their mouth. So last nite Judge Howls he made a long speech an' after he hed set down Uncle Toby Share, which nobuddy had ast him to do, he got up an' says he, "Comrades, or at least ways some of you is comrades," he says, "I want to say a few words. As you all no, I lost my laig at Gettysburg an' I'm here to say if I was twenty years younger I'd go rite back there an' give this here other laig to my country. Yes, sir, lay her rite spang by the other one," he says, an' sets down. Well, that was the end o' the meetin' an' goin' home Uncle Toby he walked along with us an' says he, "Well, Zeke, did you like that there speech, o' mine?" he says, "Well, yes," says Zeke, "it was a very good speech. Uncle Toby, but that fight ain't a-going to be in Gettysburg, Uncle Toby. You couldn't lay your laig there if you

war. To go into the home and take the children of 19 would prove disastrous to the mothers of this country. They would look upon it as robbing them of their babies. It would throw a chill of regret over the entire war. So the authorities will do well to consider the mothers of this country while considering the selection of the soldiers to do the fighting.

THE ENEMY ALIEN.

(Cleveland News.)
In a recent roundup of the enemy aliens in New York one of the men taken into custody gave the name of Wilhelm Hochstaf. When he was searched there were found in his possession several photographic negatives of forts and places of military importance in the vicinity of the city, and an unmailed letter to another enemy alien written in the following strain:

"Let us hope for the best. Hope is, after all, the only thing we poor Germans have left. That is something that cannot be withheld from us poor, outlawed people. But for the rest, we must hold our tongue. We must bite our teeth together full of grim rage until the day comes when we, with jorous cry and out of a full throat, may sing 'Deutschland über Alles.' Then to witness the helpless rage of this pack of vagabonds. We will take pleasure and rejoice then."

Beyond question there are many people in this country that come under the official classification of "enemy aliens" who harbor no disloyalty toward the United States. Their American neighbors are willing to accept them on this basis as long as they do not by word or act afford evidence to the contrary. But the presence among them of men and women of the Hochstaf stripe cannot be doubted, and they constitute a menace sure to become more serious the farther the war progresses. They should be hunted down vigorously and put where they can do the country no harm.

Spirit of the Press

Need of Team Work.
The Allied powers in the war have made many mistakes and suffered many defeats mainly because of lack of team work. The various nations in the alliance have conducted their operations independently and, therefore, with far less force and effect than would have been the case had they worked and fought under one directing hand and one controlling body. It is earnestly hoped that the conference of Allied representatives now going on in Paris will bring about a more effective cooperation among the Allies. That seems to have been the main obstacle to success in the past. With the combined resources of Great Britain, France, Italy and the United States, victory should be certain. But all must work together. In union lies strength.—Anaconda Standard.

Frightfulness Does Not Scare.
The new German Chancellor, announcing that his country has whipped the Entente Allies, warns them that unless they come to terms of peace they will be made to suffer "all the associated consequences" of Italy's "frightful defeat." Surely no dire threat could be made that is more effective and more certain than the associated consequences of defeat for which the Huns have become incomparably notorious, but those who are fighting Germany would have been scared out of the war long ago if the Germans' policy of "frightfulness" could scare them.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Thriving Plan for Thrift.
All hail the new war savings system! The quarter saved by denying oneself four ounces of candy, the quarter saved by more saved by taking a street car instead of a taxi, need no longer linger loose and purposeless in the saver's pocket. They can be set directly to work for America's cause in the war. At any of the numerous stamp stations including all the United States post-offices, the economized quarters and dimes can be invested at once in the issue known as the "thrift stamps."

wanted to," he says. "This here fight is in Yurrip," he says. "Land o' gosh, Zeke, is that 90?" says Uncle Toby. "I guess it's lucky I'm two old to go," he says. "Fer I jest couldn't noways consent to separate them higs so fur," he says.

'Twould be Fatal.
"How do you like that cigar I gave you, old man? For 200 bands off that brand they give you a gramophone." "You don't say! If I smoked 200 of those cigars I wouldn't want a gramophone; I'd want a harp."—Boston Transcript.

He placed his arms about her waist, with much sang-froid. "She seemed to like to be embraced by him,—but pshaw!"

Did You Know
That a hoghead is an old English measure of capacity? For wine, it was equivalent to 63 gallons; for ale and beer, to 54 gallons. In the United States it is still used as a measure for liquids, equivalent to 63 gallons; but when used for tobacco, it varies in different States from about 750 to 1,200 pounds.

but the point is worthy of notice that the little thrift stamps, in 25-cent denomination, afford a means by which one's little economies can be converted on the instant into an effective call-loan to the United States government.—Boston Transcript.

Plan Worth Trying.
The quick wit of a traveling salesman who has since become a well-known proprietor was severely tested one day. He sent in his card by the officeboy to the manager of a large concern, whose inner office was separated from the waiting-room by a ground-glass partition. When the boy handed his card to the manager the salesman saw him impatiently tear it in half and throw it in the waste-basket; the boy came out and told the caller that he could not see the chief. The salesman told the boy to go back and get him his card; the boy brought out five cents, with the message that his card was torn up. Then the salesman took out another card and sent the boy back saying: "Tell your boss I sell two cards for five cents." He got his interview and sold a large bill of goods.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

LOOK YOURSELF OVER CAREFULLY

And see if your condition is not such as to make your best investment the purchase of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Peppin and Hood's Pills. This course of medicine will be worth many times the cost when it removes that tired feeling, that paleness and anemic tendency, that weakness of body that opens the way for disease, that backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble, constipation, and that grouchy touch of rheumatism. Many people need this splendid combination to make perfect health. Others may not need all three, but almost everybody needs and will find relief in at least one of them. (Advt.)

CATCHING UP ON HER SEWING NOW

Lancaster Woman Able to Tend to Home Duties Again

"I work all day at the Hocking flint glass plant and then sew until 10 o'clock almost every night."

This remark, made by Mrs. Alva Roser, who lives on West Fair avenue, Lancaster, shows what a woman can do when she feels well. Mrs. Roser was telling how she had been helped by Taniae. Only a few weeks ago Mrs. Roser was just about ready to give up. She was away behind with her sewing, and her work at the glass factory was a great task because she was so run down. Her story is told best in her own words.

"I suffered from headaches," said Mrs. Roser. "My nerves were bad. The slightest noise made me jump, and then my head would ache. For three years I couldn't sleep soundly. I had to take dizzy spells and had to catch on to something to keep from falling. My appetite was poor, and nothing I ate tasted good. I seemed to have a bad taste in my mouth most of the time."

"In the mornings I usually got up tired. By 10 o'clock I felt as though it ought to be noon. In the evenings I was completely tired out."

"About six weeks ago I read a statement about Taniae. It was made by a woman I know, and I knew she would not make a false statement. So I tried a bottle of Taniae. Almost from the first I began to improve. My meals tasted better, and the headaches left me. However, it was not until I started on the second bottle that I noticed any great difference. Then it was that I began to take on weight. I did not feel so tired in the mornings. As I continued to take Taniae I got stronger and stronger. I am feeling fine now. After my day's work I take pleasure in sewing. Often I sew as late as 10 o'clock. I'm catching up with my sewing that I had neglected so long because I was so tired I generally went to bed about half past seven."

"Taniae has been a blessing to me. Taniae, the new vegetable tonic, stomachic, combatant and invigorant, is being specially introduced at Evans' Arcade drug store. Taniae may also be procured at the Evans' pharmacy, Newark Hotel block, east side square, Newark, and at the Hebron Drug Store, Hebron, O.—Advertisement."

NERVOUSNESS ON THE DECLINE

Doctors Encouraged, They Hold Out Hope for All

"Nothing wrong but my nerves." We hear it at home, at work and everywhere. Certainly, nervousness is a disease. A man or woman might better have a broken leg than a shattered, run down nervous system.

Overwork and worry drains the nerve cells and centers of all their strength and vitality, then you get your sleepless night, poor blood, nervousness, worry and fear that goes with a worn-out, broken-down nervous system. The better doctors of today know just what to do in cases of this kind. They know that a few weeks' use of Phosphated Iron rarely fails to strengthen, stimulate and feed the phosphate-hungry nerve centers.

Phosphated Iron certainly does take hold. The way the majority of patients come back is remarkable. You can almost see their nerves grow steady, strong and peaceful.

What a change in appearance, too. The cheeks become filled out and flushed with the healthy ruddy glow that only pure, red, ironized blood can give. Eyes sparkle, their step has the spring and swing of youth and their whole system seems to be alive with energy and good spirits.

Mr. Nervous Man or Woman, Phosphated Iron will do all this for you if you will give it a chance. Do not drag around, all in and half dead another day when help is so near. Get busy! and be a live one once again.

To insure doctors and their patients getting the genuine phosphated iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to give you pills or tablets. Insist on capsules. Evans' Drug Store, and leading druggists everywhere.

The most insignificant scratch, cut, burn or other wound may turn into blood-poisoning and cause the loss of a limb or life. It doesn't pay to take chances. The draft board has placed for inspection a special notice to registrants under the conscription law. The bulletin has to do with the return of the questionnaire and information pertinent to the different classifications.

The bulletin states that failure to return the questionnaire seven days from the date it was mailed constitutes a misdemeanor, punishable by not to exceed one year's imprisonment and such failure may also deprive of valuable rights and result in immediate induction into the military service and trial by court martial.

The bulletin also says: "Any person desiring to claim a deferred classification by either local or district board on any ground in respect of any registrant designated herein may, within seven days from the date hereof, and not later, submit such claim to his local board accompanied by such affidavit evidence as such person may desire to have considered."

Further information of value the registrant is contained in the sheet.

Modern Ideas of Greatness.

When we ask what it is that we moderns deem to constitute greatness among the men of our own or a comparatively recent time, we feel that the standard has somewhat changed. We set less store by monarchs, for they do not fill the stage of the world as they once did, although some of them have still large opportunities for doing good or harm. Neither do we give quite such special honor to military glory as former ages did. Nevertheless, the essential qualities that dazzle the eyes of man may be still the same. I speak chiefly of the greatness that consists in action, for the ruler, the statesman and the warrior do their work in the sight of the world and can be judged by it, whereas the poet or the philosopher may have long to wait for recognition and even a supreme scientific discovery may not be appreciated until long years have been spent in working out its applications.—The Youth's Companion.

American Is Versatile.

At a certain well-known Swiss hotel, during one of his summer holidays in Switzerland, according to William V. Howe in Case and Comment, Joseph H. Choate had just finished that distressing and gastronomically disappointing task, a table d'hôte dinner on the Swiss plan, when he was heartily greeted by an English gentleman who had sat at the opposite end of the table. The Englishman said: "We have been observing you, as an American, with much interest, and I want to ask you a very impertinent question, if I may. What are you by occupation or profession? Won't you be good enough to tell me, because my wife says you are a clergyman, my daughter insists you are an actor, and I say you are a lawyer. We can't all be right." "Yes, you can," instantly retorted Mr. Choate. "I am something of all three—three in one. I preach a good deal, act a little, and practice more or less law—which means that I am an American lawyer. Tell your wife and daughter you all guessed right."

Origin of Cardinal's Red Hat.

It is a tradition that the red hat of the cardinal is due to the following circumstance: The Countess of Flanders complained to Innocent the Fourth that in a great assemblage she could not distinguish cardinals from abbots and other great personages of the church. Accordingly, at the council at Lyons in 1245, the pope prescribed that the red hat should replace the mitre; and ever since that time the symbol of the cardinal's rank has been a red hat. Since the year 1664 red robes have been worn by cardinals; the purple robes, which were decreed by Boniface the Eighth, are worn only in Lent and Advent.

Mr. Charles Goldsmith is visiting in Columbus today.

RED LINEN OF LATE DESIGN

Scallops, Ribbon Bows, Three-Initial Monograms, and Other Decorative Features Add to Cheerfulness.

Counterpanes and bolster and pillow shams are being developed in a variety of new materials and designs. Some are made up in fine corded gabardines, finished along the edges with wide scallops. A big bow of satin ribbon corresponding in color to the decorations of the rooms, is tacked in the center of the shams and cover. In other instances three initial monograms occupy this place of honor. In the latter cases large eyelets are often embroidered around the edges, and colored ribbon run through.

Heavier overings are developed in fine white pique in broad ribs. The edges are turned back with wide hems mitered at the corners. In the center of both cover and shams large baskets filled with different colored flowers are embroidered in heavy cross-stitch. Stamped in cross-stitch patterns representing Mother Goose characters and animals, these last are particularly attractive for the youngster's room.

The woman who is fond of crocheting and has plenty of leisure, may make a very lovely linen set for her bed out of strips of heavy white linen sewed together with pieces of fine insertion and edged with lace. If more elaboration is desired, the linen may be embroidered in a fine running design.

SOME MODES OF THE MINUTE

Colored Velvetene Coats, Turkish Toweling Blouses, Scarfs and Collarettes of Tulle Are Popular.

The introduction of colored velvetene coats as a substitute for the expensive silk sweater lowers the price of one open-air garment. Velvetene has suddenly leaped into fashion along with the new hats. It is frequently chosen in green, lapis lazuli blue, burnt orange and black. Its use is not confined to sport coats; it is also worn by smart women for sport skirts.

Fine turkish toweling has recently been given a place. Ingenious women have found out that the bathroom can be robbed for the tennis court. Two extra large towels with a good-looking colored border serve for a blouse with elbow sleeves and a colored cotton snash. This makes a more commendable sports garment than voile or silk.

Scarfs and collarettes of tulle in mauve, beige and all colors are now worn with thin frocks. Purely decorative are most of these airy trifles, which are altogether transparent, forming a sort of cloudy frame for the face. Half ruche, half collar, with picturesque floating ends, these bits of tulle are more than worth their weight in gold. Very effective is a cachenez of vivid red crepe heavily embroidered with gold thread. It is worn with a white frock.

TRIMMING MAKES THIS HAT

Every now and then the trimming can go a long way to making the hat. That is exactly what has happened to this large hat. If it were not for the usual trimming the hat would probably be classed as ordinary. It is a stunning black velvet model, and has the new brim, narrow front and back and wide at both sides. The crown and fanciful cascade are of uncurled ostrich feathers.

NEW VESTS MEET WITH FAVOR

Substitute for Blouses, Fashioned After the Sleeveless Sweater, Are Worn Only With Coats.

Among the amazing quantity of new gowns shown there are so many waistcoats that appear to be substitutes for blouses that no one can miss them.

They are fashioned after the manner of sleeveless sweaters, these new vests, and they are made in white panne velvet, tan-colored jersey cloth, Bordeaux satin, apple green velvet, leather-colored suede and midnight blue corduroy. They are worn only with coats that can drop open in front. Many of them have little belts across the front, which look as though they belonged in the back. They are narrow, with merely a conventional manish buckle to fasten the ends. They are single-breasted and some of them are cut to the neck and then flare upward above the chin in a collar of their own fabric.

Buff-colored corduroy, with flat gilt buttons is the kind of waistcoat that has been taken up with the colonial blue cloth suit, and when one adds to such a costume the new modified George Washington hat with its colonial brim flaring back over the crown, the imaginative onlooker sees a symbol of the "spirit of '76."

There's many a scheme miscarried. The best of plans may eke fall out.

REGISTRATION OF TWO DELINQUENTS RECEIVED TODAY

The local draft board today succeeded in registering two delinquents. Joseph Bush of 320 Wilson street, who has been in Pennsylvania was registered there, but his card has just been received.

Ernest George of 617 Washington avenue, Bridgeville, Pa., saw a copy of the registration cards in the paper and filled it out and mailed it to the sheriff here. He thought that met the requisites for registration and paid no further attention to it. The board has been endeavoring to get him registered for several months.

Winter Hair Treatment.

One of the best mixtures for winter treatment for the hair consists of 16 ounces of pure cologne and two ounces of refined castor oil. One would think this a rather greasy mixture, but it is not. It is easy to apply, does not make the scalp greasy or the hair shiny and is agreeable in feeling and odor.

If you find that you have neglected to keep your hair properly moist during the cold months and need a stronger tonic, use four ounces of cologne, one-half ounce of tincture of cantharides, and one-fourth of a dram each of oil of rosemary and oil of lavender. To apply this, part the hair every few inches all over the scalp and rub the liquid in thoroughly with the finger-tips or a very soft brush.

Use either of these mixtures three times a week unless the hair is exceedingly dry, in which case use it every other day for two weeks.

So many women complain that their hair seems to fall out only in winter, that it is surprising that they do not realize that the cold weather has much to do with that condition. If you notice that your combings are large during the cold months, you may be sure that you have neglected your hair so much that continued dryness has caused the trouble. To remedy this make a mixture of one and a half ounces of cocoanut oil, one ounce of bay rum, two and a quarter drams of tincture of nuxvomica, and 20 drops of bergamot. Rub this into numerous partings of the hair, every other night for a week.

Every Day Etiquette

"I have received an announcement card from a newly married couple in another city and, as they will not be at home for a month, I am in doubt how to send them a gift," remarked John.

"A wedding announcement does not call for a gift but, if you wish to give one, you may wait until they are settled in their new home," suggested his brother.

Our Boys and Girls

Children should be encouraged to live as much as possible in their wonderful world of make believe and as long as their fancies delight in it.

An old screen may be successfully used in the nursery, both as an shield at night and a source of pleasure in the daytime, by the simple application of pictures clipped from magazines and neatly gummed to the surface of the screen. The pictures should be chosen with care as the artistic success of this unique plan will depend on their arrangements. Mothers will find such a screen a helping hand when called upon to weave the bedtime story.

Baby's first teeth are usually neglected and it is generally believed that the first teeth are soft and useless. This is not true as they come in strong and white but are usually woefully neglected. If these teeth turn discolored and crumble, one of three conditions exist. They are not perfectly cleaned, the diet given the child is not right or the teeth are not used as they should be.

MISERABLE WAS EXHIBITION OF PORKY D. FLYNN
Newark fight fans who journeyed through the blizzard to Columbus last night, waited around depots for trains, laid out on the ground and in the second round, the latter dropping to the floor taking the count, collecting his share of the gate receipts and taking back to Boston, were in a good frame of mind to say mean things about Capital City boxing exhibitions. However these same boys will turn up the corner of the carpet or roll over the mattress and take out a few more greenbacks to see the next one, for they like it, then criticize some one else who is found at a different kind of sport.
In the first round and a blow was exchanged, Flynn covering up and backing over the head of his opponent, and took a short right to his opponent's head and then made for a quick exit. The referee, however, called a short time-out and the fight was over for the Bostonian dropped to the floor, spilling out on his back and the referee counted ten.
Johnny Gardner of this city was billed to mix it with "Soldier" Lang, but he pulled him out and substituted Joe Serra, one of the toughest lightweight boxers in the Capital City was substituted. He outwrestled Gardner and had the best of it but the Newark box was outpointed.

NATIONAL LEAGUE CONFRONTED WITH SERIOUS PROBLEMS
(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Dec. 11.—War time baseball problems of such serious nature, extra taxes, shorter schedules and reduction of player limits confronted members of the National League at their annual meeting here this afternoon. Various club owners previous to the meeting indicated that while these and other subjects would be discussed informally, no formal action could be taken until the proposed joint conference of the two major leagues at Chicago later in the week. Reading of reports for last year and election of officers constituted the only formal program for today's session. The league heads have invited President Taft and Secretary Hovdey to remain in office for another term and it is believed they will accept although there was a recurrence of rumors today that Tener would quit the league.

OWNERS ADVOCATE LEAGUE'S SUSPENSION DURING WAR PERIOD
(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Dec. 11.—International baseball league club owners after a brief session yesterday because the storm delayed the arrival of some of the members, expected to take action down to the real business that brought them together in annual meeting. Some of the owners are disposed to take a strong view of the league's future, only advocating suspension during the war while others are hopeful of starting with a six-team circuit.
Montreal and Richmond probably will be dropped. It was generally admitted. It was said that two New York state clubs would be for franchises there were any assurances that the legislature would legalize Sunday baseball. Sabbath games it is hoped, probably would be a financial loss during the week.

This is a view of the case brought on by the Peoples Market Co. to recover against George Weisart, et al., the expenses incurred by the market in fighting the injunction suit which defendants about two years ago commenced against the Peoples Market Co. and in which suit the defendants obtained an injunction depriving the plaintiffs of the right to close the old Market House and carrying on their business, the court suit was brought to the court and the injunction was dissolved.
Judge Fulton took the demurrer to the answer under advisement and will announce a decision hereafter.

HOW HUGE ARMY IS TRANSPORTED
Efficient Work Done by the American Railroads.
MOVED WITHOUT A HITCH
Within a Week More Than 80,000 Troops With Their Equipment and Supplies Are Carried by the Railroads Without Accident or Delay—Regular Traffic Not Interfered With.

By MAJ. GEN. WILLIAM HARDING CARTER.
We have stood at the threshold of war for nearly three years without the nation itself having formulated any very definite ideas as to what course it would pursue in event of being drawn into the maelstrom in Europe. This neglect is quite pardonable when viewed in the light of our past history, because up to the present period no American authority ever contemplated for a moment any conditions of world war which would draw our troops to the field of battle in Europe. Among the things which must not be discussed now are the embarkation and sailing for foreign ports of the army which is to bear our flag on the European battle fields, nor is it deemed appropriate to announce the routes or movements or organizations on their way to mobilization camps or ports of embarkation. This objection does not hold, however, with regard to making known the movements of the troops after they have completed their journeys on land. The American public will be interested in learning how these problems of land transportation have been handled.

Five days after the declaration of war against Germany the presidents of the American railroads met at the national capitol and agreed that during the war they would subordinate every other interest to helping to win the war; that they would eliminate all competitive rivalry and merge their interests under the direction of the American Railway association's special committee on national defense.
Directed From Washington.
Since that date the operation of all the railroads of this country has been under the direct jurisdiction of an executive committee of five, located at Washington. Under that committee is a general committee, in charge of the details.
To every army department headquarters was assigned an expert in railway operation, with a corps of assistants placed at railroad centers. On him rests the responsibility for the movement by authorities.

The movement of drafted men of the new National army involved more men, but the movement of the National Guard of the fifteen states comprising the Central department was a much more difficult problem for the railroads. The war department had determined that during the movement of the National army there should be no movement of the National Guard. The period between September 24 and October 1 was designated as available for the movement of National Guard organizations of the Central department.

To prevent congestion at the designation camps or on the railroads, it was necessary to perfect a plan covering every detail. This plan showed the location of every National Guard unit, the exact time for its entrainment, the railway route to be used, the speed schedule to be followed, and the time of arrival at destination. From five to twelve days in advance of the movement of the National Guard every railroad participating in it knew exactly what service it would have to perform. The movement was started on the evening of September 24 and completed on October 1. The railway equipment required 750 sleeping cars, 1,500 coaches and baggage cars, not including freight cars.

How well the plans were made is shown by the fact that the movement was carried out in such a manner that there was not more than one regiment on any railroad on any one day and that not more than one regiment arrived at any camp on the same day. During this period 82 organizations, in 14 states, were moved to their new stations. The transportation involved 2,711 officers, 83,751 enlisted men, with baggage, tents, wagons and animals.

Without a Hitch.
Without an accident to a single man, without delay at point of origin, on route or at destination, without a hitch in the arrangements as originally planned, the officers and men of the National Guard in 14 states were transported by rail in one week to the distant cantonments designated by the war department. That is a record of which every American has a right to be proud.
The whole movement of the National Guard in the very short time allotted, without causing congestion on the railroads or at the camp destinations, could not have been effected but for the unification of the railroads agreed upon by their presidents and carried out through what is commonly called the railroads' war board.
While the preference would have been given by the railroads to this military traffic in any event, the fact that it was necessary to change the regular schedule, included passenger trains, and that the interests of the traveling public were also carefully considered when the plans were made for the movement.

PERRYTON FARMERS' INSTITUTE DEC. 19-20

GEORGE S. CRAWFORD, Monroe County.

HAS SPECIAL INTEREST IN HILLY PARTS OF OHIO

Identified With Public Affairs and Interested in Fertility of Soil.

George S. Crawford will be one of the speakers at the coming farmers' institute. His farm is situated in the hilly portion of Ohio, and here his experience has been gained. He has tried many experiments on his own farm and his message to the farmers is based upon them. He has taught a rural school and has made a careful study of rural social problems.

Mr. Crawford's experience is of wide range, and therefore he speaks with equal interest on various problems. His topics include "What Kind of Fertilizers Should We Buy," "The Effect of Lime on Soils and Crops" and "Permanent Pastures."

HOW ABOUT A SMOKELESS AND DRINKLESS DAY?

We have had wheatless days, meatless days, and sugarless days. Of course all these have meant sacrifice, but it was through the process of conserving that we have learned the value of the things we have. Now some one suggests that the men do not smoke so much and that the money be devoted to war relief work. All right now, talking of conservation it is suggested that the men be asked to have one smokeless day a week and one drinkless day a week. The smokers saved on one day could be sent to some camp, and the drinks, well they would not be acceptable, but the money used in their purchase might be put in a general fund and applied to some good cause.

Now we will hear what the men have to say about it.

ABOUT THE TOWN

The following tales have been picked up about the town the past few days. A mother and her daughter were riding through the country east of the city, and coming to the J. P. Lamb home east of the city, they saw a number of little pigs in the field. The mother remarked, "Daughter, are those Lamb's pigs?" but the daughter who was somewhat of a wit replied demurely, "No mother, they are pig's pigs."

A well known Hungarian living in the Everett's flats was visiting the market Saturday when some one asked him "John, don't you want to buy a rabbit?" as a nice bunch of the animals already killed were on a table. But John replied "No me no want to buy." "Don't you like rabbits John?" he was asked. "Yes, fine eat. But I have lots of them," John answered. "I want a rabbit," "No," replied John, "I just sit on my front porch and when rabbit come along and go 'meow-meow' I just go 'bing-bang' with my gun, and then I skin him."

They are telling this one on Dan Connolly, the popular meat man at the Cosner grocery in West Church street. It seems Dan purchased a live goose to be used on Thanksgiving. He put it in a small box for over night and dropped some corn in for it to eat. The box was small and the goose was not turned around. The next morning one of the boys at the store remarked that the goose must be sick as it did not eat the corn placed in the box. An investigation showed that Dan had placed the corn in the wrong end of the box.

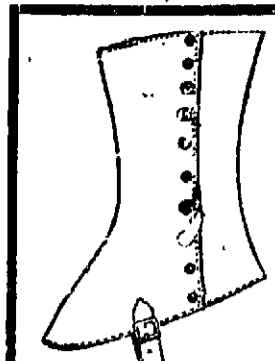

This one may seem blasphemous, but it was not intended that way. A colored man went in the Norton bookstore yesterday, and approaching a clerk told her his wife had just purchased a new piano and wanted a picture of Jesus to place above it. The clerk said all right, and showing him one said: "Now this is a picture of the boy Jesus, will that do?" But the colored man all intent on the purchase said: "Nope, I want a picture of the old man Jesus." The remark seemed so blasphemous the clerk was shocked for a minute, but seeing it was unobscure on the part of the purchaser, it passed in a laugh.

George Meyers a driver for M. T. Keeley was pretty cold Tuesday morning but it was sort of kidding the weather at that. He was driving a team about the town, and fastened to the harness of each horse was a jaunty Japanese umbrella. "To keep the hot sun off," explained Meyers.

AMUSEMENTS

AUDITORIUM

"Bab's Burglar" with Marguerite Clark, comes to the Auditorium today for a two-day showing. This is the second of the famous "Sub-Deb" stories by Mary Roberts Rinehart and was directed by the clever director J. Searle Dawley. "Bab's Burglar" has virtually the same cast as the preceding "Sub-Deb" picture, and carries on the adventures of Barbara Archibald in her efforts to escape from being relegated to the background because she is not yet old enough to "come out." There is an abundance of comedy situations and a pleasing element of surprise. Miss Clark has a role that suits her talents and size and in addition to this clever Paramount Select feature the second episode of "The Retreat of the Germans at the Battle of Arras" will be shown. These pictures show the heroic drive of the allies in every detail. "It brings to every spectator," the dust and smoke and din and death of actual warfare. You see the great guns spouting steel. You see the machine guns raining lead. You see the hand grenades explode. You see the shells burst and blow whole detachments high into the air and dig huge craters into the soil. You see the havoc and ruin that the Huns have accomplished in their mad rush to escape the British. The second episode will be shown today and tomorrow.

"Intolerance"

D. W. Griffith's $2,000,000 spectacle, "Intolerance" which the critics of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, San Francisco, and other large cities have proclaimed the most pretentious as well as the most marvelous production ever shown on any stage, will commence its local engagement of 3 days, Thursday at the Auditorium.

In "Intolerance" Mr. Griffith, by presenting four stories almost simultaneously, an idea of his own, departs from all known methods of dramatic construction. In fact this novel mode of expression is said to be the only new idea in story telling for the stage conceived by man in the last 2000 years.

The theme of "Intolerance" is love's struggle throughout the ages. The action of its four episodes takes place in ancient Babylon, medieval Paris, Judea of the time of the Nazarene, and a modern American city. There are three love stories and each story has its own set of characters. Its cast, the largest one ever assembled for any stage production, 125,000 people took part in it, numbers as principal players some of America's most famous film stars.

Words are inadequate to describe this stupendous work, one episode alone of which (the gorgeous Babylon one) cost more than any entire spectacle heretofore presented in a theatre. Never before have scenic backgrounds to equal the gigantic palace of Belshazzar, the temple of Bel, and the mighty walls of Babylon, 300 feet high, been constructed for any stage offering. Seats now selling.

"The Woman God Forgot"

When Jeanne Macpherson wrote the story for the Arctcraft spectacle, "The Woman God Forgot," starring Geraldine Farrar, she based the story on historical facts concerning the Aztec Indians at the height of their power in North America, weaving the threads of the plot around Tezcatl, the daughter of Montezuma, who bowed to love's command and sold her country to Cortez and his conquering hordes.

Cecil De Mille, upon commencing the production for Arctcraft, faced a task to accurately reproduce the settings and costumes of that period. Many months were devoted by the research department in securing information and photographs, even requiring a trip to Mexico where models were made of the architecture, and other landmarks which appear in the film. Libraries and museums were searched, and archaeologists and historians consulted. The dress of the lower class Aztecs was a comparatively easy matter to procure, but that of the wealthy nobles, who chose all manner of costly and extraordinary raiment, required much labor.

During this period the taste of the courtiers and the royal family ran to feathers, for garments and draperies, rare plumage difficult to secure as the United States government prohibits its importation. The services of forty experts in feather work were required for many weeks, as well as ten jewelers who reproduced the breast plates, crowns, bracelets and other ornaments. The weapons also required much skill to prepare and

NOTE! "INTOLERANCE" IS POSITIVELY THE ONLY PRODUCTION MR. GRIFFITH HAS MADE SINCE "THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

--:FOREWORD:--

A cradle endlessly rocking and from which issue the forces of conflict through all ages, is the symbol of Mr. Griffith's newest work.

The upholders of these forces are designated by Emerson as marplot and who he points out are so busy uplifting everything and everybody that were it not for their miserable interferences the world would organize itself as do now the rose and the air and the sun.

First we see a working settlement in a factory town of the modern period. The characters in the narrative are living in contentment and joy while earning the fruits of their labor. We see Jerusalem with its throngs of citizens enjoying good will and peace as they laughingly mingle in the market places and tread the golden streets amidst their hallowed surroundings.

In another flash the streets of Paris unfold before your view. Everywhere there are crowds typical of the happiness and pleasures of medieval France. Contrasted to these exterior surroundings,

"Hans and Fritz" made famous by R. Dix, the originator of "The Katzenjammer Kids," hilariously funny—Gorgeously Girls—entrancingly musical, comes to the Auditorium for two performances. Xmas day. This is a Gas Hill attraction, therefore patrons know it is O. K.

The Hippodrome theatre, N. Y., sent the government a check for $15,000 for admission war taxes for the month of November.

George Walsh's next picture "The Prince of N. Y." has a story about the draft. Some of the scenes being laid at Camp Merritt, N. J.

Clara Kimball Young has a new play "The House of Glass." It will be shortly screened and it cost her $35,000 to secure the picture rights.

Gas Sun, well known here, has bought the Columbia theatre, that recently collapsed, and will build an entire new building. This theatre was being rebuilt when it collapsed, killing a number of workmen.

of Will Lewis, an impetuous, fun-loving young man whose impetuosity gets him into the worst scrap that a young man can well be in. It is thrillingly and entertainingly told in "The Burial," the new World-Picture Brady-Made which will be the attraction at the Alhambra theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. Three brilliant stars enact this interesting story. They are Carlisle Blackwell, Evelyn Greely and Madge Evans and they do some of the very best work of their careers in this production. Mr. Blackwell is seen in an entirely different role from those in which his thousands of admirers are accustomed to see him and it is certain that he will be liked in this departure. Miss Greely makes an altogether charming heroine of the story and Carlisle Blackwell as Edith, who discovers the burglar when he comes to rob the home where his former wife is living in ignorance of the fact that he is still alive, is particularly effective.

A delightful romance involving a young American aviator and a beautiful little French girl is unfolded in "For France," which is the attraction at the Grand theatre tonight. It is not a war picture in the accepted sense, but a while there are flashes of war and a number of thrilling aerial scenes, the sanguinary element is missing, and the love story overshadows the battle element. The cast is an exceptionally well balanced one, headed by Edward Earle and Betty Howe, with Arthur Lonigan, Mother Mary Maurice and several other strong players supporting them.

PRINCE BELSHAZZAR and the PRINCESS BELOVED.

across the golden streets and suffering takes the place of joy and contentment.

In medieval France there is a designing mother, Catherine de Medici, who sees in the zeal of the Huguenots a menace to the ambitions of her sons. The peaceful streets are given over to massacre. Death stalks where life had seemed so pleasant.

Babylon, the seat of the world's development, topples upon its foundation because the High Priests of Baal cannot tolerate the introduction of new Gods into the ancient city. Treachery surrenders the citadel to an invading horde and civilization suffers one of the greatest setbacks that history records.

So it goes. Even the crack of this intolerant whip over the heads of the people, whether they live in our times or in earlier periods. Hard driven by this whip they came down through different channels to the point where the lines serge.

At last humanity, stripped of its inalienable rights, stands face-to-face with Intolerance in the pursuit of peace and brotherly love, WHICH WILL WIN?

VICKS VAPORUB

Cough Nearly Gone in 24 Hours
That's the usual experience with this home-made remedy. Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc.

Anyone who tries this pleasant-tasting home-made cough syrup, will quickly understand why it is used in more homes in the United States and Canada than any other cough remedy. The way it takes hold of an obstinate cough, giving immediate relief, will make you regret that you never tried it before. It is a truly dependable cough remedy, which should be kept handy in every home, to use at the first sign of a cough during the night or day time. Any druggist can supply you with 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (60 cents worth). Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. The total cost is about 65 cents and you have a full pint of the most effective remedy you ever used. The quick, lasting relief you get from this excellent cough syrup will really surprise you. It promptly relieves the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment ask for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BEL

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights. Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

NO END IN SIGHT FOR THE PRESENT BRAND OF WEATHER

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Dec. 11.—Although slightly warmer weather with snow is forecast for Ohio tomorrow, the weather bureau announced today and that there is no end in sight to the cold snap of the last two days. Cincinnati was the coldest place in Ohio today, the minimum temperature there being 13 degrees below zero. It was nine below at Columbus, eight below at Dayton, two below at Toledo, and two above zero at Cleveland, the weather bureau announced. Many trains have been annulled because of the cold weather and trains that are running are hours late. Telegraph and telephone communication is still seriously interfered with. Intense suffering has been reported from many sections of the state unable to obtain coal. The fuel shortage is affecting the well-to-do as well as the poor. Dealers in most parts of the state are selling only two tons of coal to a family, but many dealers are without coal. The cold weather has so affected railroad transportation that very little coal is moving. Because of cold classrooms, due to the coal shortage, Ohio State University remained closed again today and indications were that classes there may not be resumed until after the Christmas holidays. The street car service in Columbus was demoralized and many workers were late in reaching their offices and shops.

CHORAL SOCIETY TO HAVE CHARGE OF XMAS MUSIC

Newark's Community Christmas celebration which heretofore has been conducted by the Associated Charities will be given this year under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. The celebration will be held at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, December 23. An interesting service is being arranged, the program of which will be announced at a later date. Music will be in charge of the Civic Choral society. All members are urged to come to chorus practice this evening at Taylor hall to learn the songs for Newark's Community Christmas. Let us make this the biggest Community Christmas Newark has ever had. Opportunity to learn some of the songs will be given at the Auditorium in the evenings when the words will be thrown on the screen and the orchestra will play the music. Every one please sing these songs. There is a fifth verse of "America" which is now being sung all over England and France and is being taught in our Public schools:

"God save our noble men.
Bring them safe home again
God save our men."
Make them victorious,
Patient and chivalrous,
They are so dear to us
God save our men."

Every household in the United States, according to a plan just started, is to be asked at 5 o'clock on Christmas morning to sing "America," in which hundreds of thousands of men away from their homes will join.

HEARTACHES OF A DRUNKARD

Tells How He Was Released From the Bondage of Alcoholic Slavery

Leading Druggists Guarantee Results.
My heart bleeds for every drunkard,
and I sincerely wish I could meet them face to face and tell them how I was saved from the clutches of the demon drink. If this were possible, thousands could be saved from drunkards' graves.
Yes, my appetite for drink was completely destroyed. Here is the prescription that saved me: One prepared tessum powder twice a day in coffee.
Ten or twenty liquid. Almost everything had been tried on me without results, so don't experiment with anything but tessum powders, then you will not be disappointed. Since the powder is colorless, odorless and tasteless, it can be given secretly. It is intended to destroy the terrible craving. The results are so startling that druggists are refunding the money if it fails. See money refund guarantee, which druggists are authorized to give when satisfied. The prescription is filed. There is no risk on your part, so you have everything to gain and nothing to lose. Mothers and sisters are now able to cure their loved ones of this terrible habit with no expense if it fails. If druggists were not confident of success they could not afford to give the demon offer. Have the prescription filled today, before you forget it.
One woman who used this prescription on her husband says: "It is going on the fourth week since he has touched a drop of anything in the form of liquor or used tobacco of any kind. He is now a different man. He is a Tessum has gained a wonderful enthusiasm in me. I regard it as a godsend. Just think, I have never seen my husband sober for more than 48 hours in years, and now it is going on one month since he had his last drink."
Another one gratefully writes: "I have used tessum powders on my husband and find it one of the greatest cures in this world. He hasn't taken a drink since I started on the Tessum. He never will. My home does not seem like the same place and life seems worth living. I hope thousands gain what I have. This has been a good new year for me without drink up my home."
A leading druggist said: "Yes, Tessum is a very remarkable remedy for the drink habit. It is harmless, wonderfully effective and is having an enormous sale. I advise everyone who wishes to destroy the liquor habit to give it a trial." You take no risk with Tessum, as it is sold in this city under steel-bound, money-refund guarantee by T. J. Evans and other first-class druggists. They guarantee it to do the work or refund the money.

STREET FIGHTING IN MOSCOW.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Dec. 11.—Street fighting has occurred in Moscow and the Swedish consul there has advised all Swedes to leave the city, according to advices received in Haparanda and forwarded by the Stockholm correspondent of the Morning Post.
It is added that starvation seems to threaten Moscow. Most of the Swedes there are said to have taken the consul's advice.

SMALL BLAZE.
A fire alarm at 2 o'clock called the central department to the home of W. C. Butterworth, 147 South Third street. The blaze was a small one, and the chemicals were used.

STOLEN SHOES RECOVERED.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Toledo, Dec. 11.—More than $350 worth of shoes stolen from railroad cars were recovered today by the police who found them in a barn here.

ROTARY CLUB RAISING FUND FOR WAR WORK

Reports submitted at the meeting of the Rotary club this noon showed that more than half of the War Camp Community Recreation fund had been raised by the members. The club hopes to announce next Tuesday that the entire fund has been subscribed.

Supl. Wilson Hawkins spoke of the Red Cross membership campaign which will be waged by 2200 school boys and girls next Tuesday. All Red Cross memberships expire December 31 and the campaign to be carried on by the school children will be for next year's memberships at $1 each.

C. H. Spencer spoke of the $2,- 000,000,000 thrift stamps and war-savings certificate campaign just started by the government and announced that Ohio's share will be $106,000,000. Of this sum Licking county will be asked to take approximately $110,000 before December 1, 1918. Thrift stamps, 25 cents each, may now be obtained at the postoffice, at the Home Building Association, and from the mail-carriers. Soon they will be on sale at many places about town and over the county. The $5 war-savings certificates may be purchased for $4.12 up to February 1. The certificates bear 4 per cent interest.
An organization is to be perfected in order to acquaint everybody with the savings plan and to interest all including the children in the purchase of thrift stamps and savings certificates.

Britain's Colonial Traditions.

Great Britain has the colonial tradition and her able men will live anywhere—in the African jungle, the Egyptian desert, the Burmese bush on whatsoever heaven forsaken place the colonial office may choose to send them. Her best young men are brought up with the idea of administering these isolated and insular spots on the atlas, and such of them as do not die of fever or get killed by the natives are content to come home and retire with a decoration at fifty.
This system simplifies the British colonial problem immensely. Less fortunate nations deal with it in different ways. Germany administered her colonies with second-class men, because there were neither traditions nor inducements to draw the first-class men to the job. France is solving the problem in a characteristically French fashion. She is making the colonies attractive to the first-class man.

Contagiousness of the Smile.

Anything which makes us smile produces within us the healthful excitation which gives us the pleasant emotions associated with smiling. The song which calls up the action of smiling in our minds calls up at the same time a mental echo of the actual experience and so puts us, as we sing it or hear it in a pleasant, happier frame and keeps us strong and well. There is much to show this. The contagion-ness of a smile is quickly proved. Take a child into a crowded street car or elsewhere. If there is not a great counter attraction even the grumpiest crab around about will soon or late smile back at the cherub.—Exchange.

Founder of English Fiction.
Daniel Defoe has been called the real founder of English fiction, because he wrote the first noteworthy tale drawn from the imagination, but it was Samuel Richardson who first dealt with romance and heart throbs in the private lives of English families. He was born in 1689 and was the author of "Pamela," "Clarissa Harlowe" and "Sir Charles Grandison," novels in which are commingled sickly sentiment and wearisome description.

Care of the Canary.

Don't forget to give the canary a fresh bit of green every now and then;
also that too much hemp seed makes him fat.

Chinese Coffins.

It is customary when a Chinese dies
to place the body in a wooden coffin, the wood being generally imported from China.

tutional amendment for nation-wide

16 BELOW ZERO BY REGULATED THERMOMETERS

Thermometers about the city registered from 12 to 18 degrees below zero this morning. In the outlying districts and in the country many thermometers registered from 18 to 20 below, few of them showing a temperature above 16.
At the J. C. Brown grocery this morning the regulated thermometers showed 16 below as did the thermometer in front of the patrol station. At eight o'clock it was still 12 below but at noon, a bright sun lifted the clouds and the thermometer rose to 10 above.
The suffering of yesterday was allayed by the absence of the stiff wind which blew all day Monday. The gas condition remains about the same,
and coal is still hard to procure.

OWNERSHIP OF THE INDIANAPOLIS TEAM TO BE TRANSFERRED

Indianapolis, Dec. 11.—Transfer of the ownership of the franchise and players of the Indianapolis American Association baseball club from James C. Mc-Gill and his uncle, Wm. C. Smith, to a local syndicate some time today, was predicted last night by Thomas J.
Hickey, president of the American Association. Mr. Hickey has been in the city for two or three days advising the prospective purchasers with regard to chances for a successful season next year but he refused to divulge the names of the men interested in the purpose.

OVERCOME BY THE COLD DRIVER FELL IN DEEP SNOWDRIFT

William H. Helm, living at 208 Cambria street was overcome by the cold on Monday. Mr. Helm is an employee of the Hottel bakery and was making his deliveries when the cold overpowered him.
The heavy wagon was stuck in a snowdrift in Sixth street and after endeavoring to release it, he succumbed to the cold and fell in the street. He was removed to the Griffith home near and restoratives were applied and later he was removed to his home in Cambria street where he is resting more comfortably today.

RIGHT EAR AND HAND FROZEN IN MAKING DELIVERY

James Smith suffered injuries from the intense cold this morning.
Smith, who is employed by the Miller Provision Co., was making deliveries this morning when his ear and right hand were frozen. He went to the office of Dr. J. J. Foster where he received medical attention. The hand was badly swollen and blistered by the cold.
